To whom it may concern

Eddie Cunningham

Eddie joined our company in 2003 after moving from the UK to take up a position as our chief design engineer.

With his experience in the UK developing machinery for the agricultural industry, he was able to bring a professional approach to our design team. He has proved to be an honest and reliable member of the management team, and is able to readily adapt to the varying projects we have undertaken.

Eddie's natural talent using Solidworks has seen significant advances in our company's design capabilities, both in the manufacture and presentation of projects.

Any future employer would be fortunate to secure Eddie as part of their design team, and he leaves our employment of his own accord.

I wish Eddie and his family all the best for the future.

Sincerely,

Mike Bates
Manager
